Faculty

Although we may not have shown it, we are indeed grateful to those sincere friends listed under the title of faculty. Their cooperation and advice as well as classroom instruction will always remain with us, and we are appreciative of all that they have done for us.

DEDICATION

Robert M. Graney

In honoring Robert Graney, we dedicate "Topper '42' with grateful thanks for his spirit of good sportsmanship and good citizenship always displayed in class and in the football and hockey teams. May his droll humor and friendly advice linger long on the Hill Top.

FOREWORD

Nothing is impossible---there is a solution to every problem. With this in mind, we Seniors must face the chaotic world with a serene and steadfast faith in our own ability to succeed. The freedom accorded us in our Constitution, and gained with the blood of our forefathers, should be an incentive to work toward what seems unattainable today. The knowledge that every man has the privilege to go as far as his own ambition and initiative will take him, is an added provocation. Should we fail in America's faith in us---should we acknowledge defeat---should we say, "That it is impossible," we are not only wrong, we are Unamerican.

Class History

The things I am about to write of may seem trivial and insignificant to you, but in this disheartening time of war the pleasure we get from the little things often serves as a medium to happiness. I sincerely hope that next year's graduation class may step out into a peaceful world united with bonds of friendship. With a feeling of pride for my class I present its history.

In the year 1938 Walpole High School welcomed 150 Freshmen. We were just a commonplace group of students, our faces shining with anticipation and our hearts full of awe for this rather cold and uncompromising-looking institution of learning. How slighted and insignificant we felt as we noticed the disdainful glances cast our way by the upper classmen. How we missed the high degree of rank that had been ours in grammar school.

Our first important activity was class elections. Those receiving the positions of honor were: President, William Lee; Vice-President, Bruce Shufelt; Secretary, Love Godfrey; Treasurer, Cranston Godfrey.

Early in September the Seniors gave our class a "get-acquainted" dance. Everyone had an enjoyable time, and the Freshmen felt a little friendlier toward their upper classmates.

We were very proud of our participation in the various athletic sports of the Walpole High School. School spirit was not lacking in the Freshman Class of 1938.

The Glee Club presented "Iolanthe" that year. Our class was glad that part of the success of the operetta was due to our assistance.

The Freshman Class welcomed a new student that year---Helen Florest, from Taunton.

Before we quite realized it, our Freshman year had drawn to a close. The weeks had sped by rapidly and it was time to begin to look forward to our Sophomore year at Walpole High School.

September 1939---vacation was over and we were ready for another year of school. We were Sophomores that year and thankful that we could no longer be called the "babies of Walpole High School." We still had no power of frightening the Freshman but nevertheless we felt rather important. We held our heads just a little higher and mastered control of blushing (that is, most of us) and felt that the world was a good place to live in after all.

Class elections were started immediately. The successful candidates were Charles Robinson, President; Marjorie Wight, Vice-President; Nancy Ryan, Secretary; and Mildred Boyden, Treasurer.

Our class welcomed two new students that year, Doris Keyes from Foxboro and George Nilson from Dedham. We were sorry to lose one of our classmates though. Chuck Johnson left for Kimball Union Academy.

These students were admitted to the Sportsmanship Brotherhood in their Sophomore year: Bruce Shufelt, Marie Ceglarski, Dorothy Gillis and Charles Johnson.

The Sophomores gave their first High School Dance in October. We worked hard to make it a success and were rewarded with the attendance of a large percentage of the High School. We secured Skeets Orlando's orchestra for dancing. Everybody enjoyed the dance very much.

A few weeks after our dance the Honorary Society sponsored a "Bean Supper." Dancing was provided afterward and the evening proved to be a great success.

In May the Glee Club presented the operetta, "Patience." Because of the hard work of the cast and the direction of Mr. Morse it was a great success.

Soon it was June again and our Sophomore year was over. It seemed only a few weeks before that we had started this year of school, and now already we were crossing the halfway mark of our high school course.

1940 - 1941

These students were admitted to ed and it was time again to start another year of school. This year promised great importance for our class. We were Juniors now, and there was a great deal of work ahead of us.

We started off with class elections. Those receiving the most votes were: Thomas Jackson, President; Marjorie Wight, Vice-President; Nancy Ryan, Secretary; and Mildred Boyden, Treasurer.

The following Juniors were admitted to the Sportsmanship Brotherhood: Marion Smith, Gloria Nelson, Marion Tichyno, James Reagan, Thomas Jackson, and George Strunz.

A new student, Donald Simons, entered our class that year. Donald formerly lived in Lexington, Massachusetts.

Our first successful activity was the Junior Dance. The Rhythm Romeos provided music for dancing, and refreshments were served.

On April 17 a musical concert was given by the Walpole High School. The High School Orchesand Band played, and members of the Glee Club sang several excerpts from the operetta "Pinafore." The music was supervised by Mr. Kravitz and Mr. Morse.

The Glee Club presented that year the operetta "Pinafore." Several Juniors were in the cast and congratulations were received on their fine work.

On Friday night, October 29, the Honorary Society sponsored a Hallowe'en Dance. Everyone was compelled to go through the "Hall of Horrors" before entering the gymnasium. This procedure was spooky but lots of fun. Music for dancing was provided by records which had been contributed by the students.

May 16 was the date of our Junior Prom. Most of us had looked forward to that day for months. The Prom was to be the most important event of our Junior Year. Excitement was running high that week. Concentration on verbs and nouns was very hard when you were trying to decide how to have your hair set. Notes filled with adjectives of feminine finery flew back and forth among the girls. The teachers were thankful it only happened once a year. Hours were spent decorating the gymnasium, hiding its bareness under gayly colored paper.

After the Prom was over we were proud of its success and we settled down again to our daily school routine.

Soon after the excitement of the prom had passed, it was June again and time to complete our work of the Junior year. It had been a hard year, but we had had much pleasure, too. And now we were looking forward to the next September when we should be Seniors, the upper classmen of Walpole High School.

1941 - 1942

September 3! Oh happy day! We're Seniors at last! What a superiority complex our class had suddenly developed! It was fun watching the Freshmen's bewildered faces as they scuttled along the corridors like timid rabbits. We had come a long way since our Freshman days, and we felt rather important. If only the teachers would recognize this high rank of ours. We still felt a little childish under their reproving glances. They just didn't seem to realize that we weren't children any longer.

It was time again for class elections. Competition was very keen. We elected Kenneth Boulter as President, Marjorie Wight as Vice-President, and Nancy Ryan as Secretary, and Mildred Boyden as Treasurer.

A Hallowe'en Dance was held by the members of the Honorary Society on Friday evening, October 31. Novelty dances and the "Hall of Horrors" provided fun for everyone.

The following Seniors are members of the Honorary Society: Marjorie Wight, Mildred Boyden, Marion Smith, Ilione Lewis, Thomas Jackson, George Strunz, William Lee, and John Gray.

On December 18, Room 112 gave an entertainment for the benefit of the Year Book. The Beverly Bell Ringers performed and also Diana Fontes, who sang and danced. Everyone enjoyed the entertainment very much. There was dancing afterward, and refreshments were served.

On January 9 the Senior Class presented the play "Uncle Sally." The play would ordinarily have been given earlier in the year, but the Assembly Hall, which was being repaired, was not completed until January. Those in the cast of "Uncle Sally" were: Robert McIntosh, Marie Ceglarski, Louise Anderson, Mildred Boyden, John Evans, Richard Kramer, Marion Tichyno, Nancy Ryan, Donald Simons, Frances Bonardi, George Nilson, and Cranston Godfrey. It

Walpole High School was very proud of their football team this year. The team won every game, with the exception of the one with Stoughton. School spirit was very high this year too. Almost all of the students of Walpole High went to the games. We hope the team keeps up the good playing and stays in the ranks as one of the best high school football teams of New England.

A Defense Stamp Drive has been started in school. The various home rooms are competing and the results have been successful. Students are giving up little pleasures in order to have money to buy defense stamps. That is the least we can do for our country and for those fighting to preserve its democracy.

One of our teachers, Mr. Stoddard, left Walpole High School, in April of this year, to teach in another town. The students of Room 205 presented their home room teacher with a fountain pen and pencil set. We were very sorry to have him go, and we hope he is happy in his new position.

In April, Room 205 sponsored a Sport Dance for the benefit of the Year Book. The High School Orchestra provided music for dancing and refreshments were served. A good time was had by all.

The girls of Room 107, for the benefit of the Year Book, presented Mr. John Hines, who gave his version of the play "Life with Father." Everyone enjoyed Mr. Hines' performance immensely.

Our Senior Class was happy to welcome Joyce MacDonald to Walpole High School. Joyce formerly lived in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Canada.

The Glee Club presented the operetta, "Pirates of Penzance," this year. The whole cast gave a grand performance. Our sincere thanks go to Mr. Morse.

The Junior Prom was a huge success this year. The gymnasium was decorated beautifully and the girls added pleasing color in their lovely gowns. Everyone had a wonderful time.

It was decided that the Senior Class go to Martha's Vineyard on their class trip. We all had a grand time and the day sped by rapidly.

As the days race on we suddenly find it is graduation time. Gee! It will be grand not to have to go to school anymore. We won't miss it . . . . at least not very much. But remember the fun we had at the school dances? Those football games were grand too. What a wonderful football team we had! Remember the first time we got called to the office? We weren't really scared but . . . . . And do you remember the fun we had decorating the gymnasium for the dance this year? Remember? Of course we'll remember, all our lives. Our school life will be one of our pleasantest memories. We're lucky to be living in America and going to schools that teach democracy and the right way of living. The little part we might have in making America a little stronger and a little more powerful will be our thanks to the country we love.

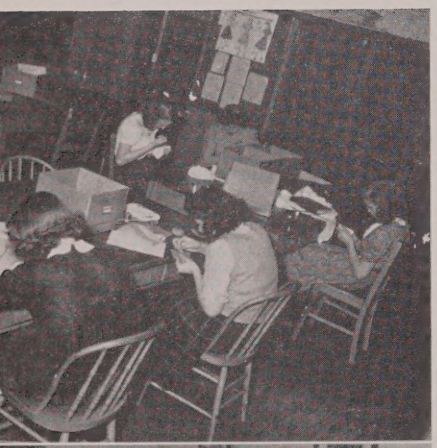
We The People . . . For The



Every person's aim is happiness; the class of '42 is no exception. We are endeavoring to review some of the outstanding features, other than the regular social functions and services, told elsewhere in this edition of "Topper," that have thrust us nearer that goal.

In September one might have seen a student, pamphlet in hand, approaching a neighboring home. This at the Hill Top could mean but one thing: the annual magazine drive conducted by the student body to aid the athletic budget. The homerooms, converted into famous college campuses, went on the war-path. When all the smoke had cleared, battle-scarred Notre Dame rose victorious followed closely by Holy Cross. The final tally: more dollars for athletic activities.

Our excellent football eleven merited celebration: under Mr. Murphy's guidance the committee planned the first football rally in school history. On Hallowe'en Night, at Memorial Park bandstand, our class-advisor emcee introduced Coach Graney, Captain Regan, and the pigskin heroes. With gridiron cheers and songs, an effigy of Needham, to be played on the morrow, was burned at the stake, amid loud applause. The band lead the mass in snake-dance fashion through Walpole center, ending at a victory dance to terminate a very successful evening.

The seniors sponsored two exclusively '42 activities namely, a skating party and scavenger hunt The skating party of ice games and general skating was enjoyed by all at Brummett's Pond. The group migrated to a cabin for picnic victuals; and, before leaping flames, a delightful evening was concluded by an informal song fest. The scavenger hunt originated at the town hall where Mr. Murphy passed out the absurb lists. The first arrivals at Longview Farm received prizes, while the booby prize consisted of steeping the losing carload with very obnoxious perfume. And thus, after light refreshment and song, another notch in the pursuit of happiness was whittled.

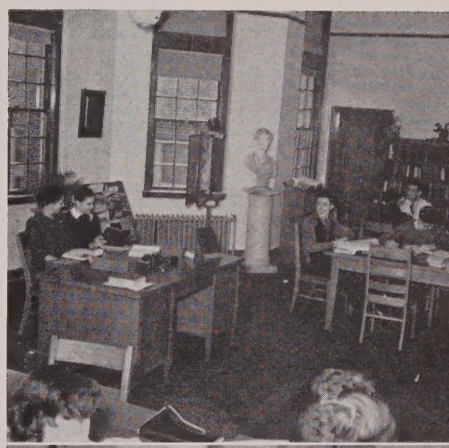
But good times do not constitute true happiness: much comes from serving others. In the last Red Cross roll call, many homerooms enjoyed a 100% membership; in the Christmas drive conducted for tuberculosis, the students contributed over thirty dollars; less than two months ago the student council sponsored a War Stamp drive. As we go to press, we have sold over $1,500 worth of stamps and bonds to aid our government and support our classmates now in action.

As we leave the scene of our high school career, we shall remember the many steps in that life pursuit of happiness that have been carved within the walls of Walpole High School.



Year Book Staff

The year of 1942 will long be remembered by those active members of the Senior Year Book Committee.

Without the use of the auditorium in which to run benefits to raise money for the cost of the book, there were many difficulties before us. The Senior homerooms, realizing this, certainly did their parts by sponsoring dances and other entertainments throughout the year. The Senior play proceeds really started us on our way, and everyone began to work enthusiastically. We now have a "Topper"; we are sure that all the Seniors will agree that the Yearbook Committee did a great job. The committee also wishes to thank all those who were not on the committee for the help that they gave to us.

Senior Play

"Meet Uncle Sally" proved to be a delightful comedy, and the audience seemed highly amused and well pleased. The "tug of war" between England and Sweden namely Richard Kramer, a cockney butler, and Louise Anderson, a Swedish cook, kept the audience in a hilarious state. Mildred Boyden's clever portrayal of the role of Uncle Sally along with Donald Simons fitting role as Dr. Snodgrass, an osteopath, also added much amusement. We wish to thank Miss Doris Maxfield for her very capable direction.

Class Officers

Walpole High School has given us many delightful memories and, we hope, a good deal of knowledge. It has also given much more—the little things in life that mean so much to the success of an individual—poise and character! Our social events which we planned and executed in our own way, have given us the self-confidence, initiative, and ability to live with others. The calm, unfailing leadership of our teachers has shown us right from wrong, and given us habits which we shall gratefully carry through life. We extend our heartiest thanks and deepest respect to all who have given so untiringly to help make us men and women—upstanding citizens of the greatest country in the world—America!

Class Prophecy

It is the early morning of October seventeenth, in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-one. At the Musty Mounds Cemetery, tucked away on an old forgotten part of West Street, in a much-changed Walpole, Mass., one solitary figure can be seen winding his weary way among the ancient granite monostrosities. A passerby, old, lame, gray, quite like the keeper himself, pauses a moment and then chances a bit of conversation. If we listen, we shall hear this:

"Morning Sir, nice day."

"Good morning. Yes, it—say aren't you—"

"Why General Swenson."

"Admiral Stone, it's been years."

"Since World War I. Say, remember the good old days, back in high school?"

"Yes, head of the class weren't we?"

"Yeah, but whatever became of some of our class-mates?"

"Why some's buried here. Take this stone for instance: John Merrick Gray, Jr. —You know, he became headmaster of the Flishmore Finishing School for the inadmissible intellects. And remember Charlie Ellis? He was a professor there in charge of ward 21-2 on the theory of numerical addition to the cipher of ten."

"O, yes. That was the year that Robert Jewell was graduated 'Cum Laude.' Lyle Allen, and Russell Lindequist were also outstanding."

"Yeah, out standing in the corridor getting an eyeful of the Miss Flishmore of '72. She was Louise Anderson."

"But look, this one says—Elizabeth Barnes—Wasn't she that powerful landlady of the Cheapsfleet tenament districts?"

"Yes, that's when Ken Boulter became president of the United Penwiper's Production. Dave Regan, Ted Nilson, and he cornered the Penwiper Market years ago. They're mighty men."

"Remember Tom Jackson? He's head man at the Thipswit Medicinal Research Laboratories. Bob Bright, Dot Gillis, and he are quite famous for their experiments there.

"And here—John Geraghty. He and Maynard Ross may own the A & P some day. They're already in charge of string-beans and onions. Ralph Boragine earned the title of 'Outstanding Newsboy' there selling the 'Daily Doubler,' Bill Lee's newspaper. He and Bob McIntosh's rival syndicate, 'The Truth,' have been feuding for years."

"This one is a girl, Gloria Nelson. She died at the height of her glory. She was the first woman principal ever to be at Walpole High."

"I wondered why Jerry Betro and William Bazilchuck were never groduated? John Deveny is truant officer there I understand, and Abe Verrochi and his assistants, Bill Jurgelevich and Paul Procaccini have put Walpole on the map coaching ping-pong and shuffle-board."

"I see John Willis has become Mr. Broderick's chief laboratory assistant. They had to get the equipment back somehow."

Did you hear about Keith Legge being elected Mayor? They say he's presidential timber.. And have you ever been to the Godfrey's Beauty Salon, on lower Main? Love and Cranston have a gold mine there. Phyllis Flower works there in the wrinkle department, while Nancy Ryan has charge of facial alterations."

"Look! Richard Johnson. He was the better half of the Johnson Brothers Circus. His brother Robert helped him, and now runs the show. Tony Lasky is in the side show—the human bag o' bones. Remember?

"Yeh! And Richard Carberry is in there hawking for him. I hear Dot Carlson got a job there as a midget."

"Sure, and Bud Evans and Victor Garneau finally got a job watering the elephants and feeding the monkeys."

"Promoted, huh? Russell Eppich and Pearl Center are giving special exhibitions as a song and dance team at Kay Maguire's 'Moonbeam Manor.' Jean McGlone has a rival enterprise, the 'Mushy Meals' hamburger stand."

"Edith Campagna, Mary Averi, and Eva Guisti refused a job with the circus to perform on the stage in a well known theater in Boston. Remember those daredevils of the high school days, Marilee Hawksley and Marcia Goodwin? They take part in the human cannon act."

"Charlie Robinson, poor fellow, was killed while experimenting with a new noiseless substitute for T. N. T."

"Gosh! Here's an old one. It says—James Regan. He went a long way. Became head of the Clam diggers and Oyster-growers Union. Remember the write-up he got in Marjorie Wight's daily gossip column? She said he had excellent chances of becoming another John L. Lewis. She also mentioned Donald Simons whose recent success with that new moth spray is expected to leave his name as immortal as the moth ball."

"And say, remember Ilione Lewis and Alma Guttormsen? They play first violin and trombone in Dick Howland's new all-girl orchestra, the 'Rhythm Wreckers.' It's the best two girl band in the country. They're currently featured at the 'Piddle Dish Pavillion' on Route One. Frances Bonardi and her partner and legal advisor, Ken Hudson, have made a fortune running the place. They bought it from Martin O'Mally who is now a part of Giusburg, Goldburg, Finklestein, and O'Mally, Matchmakers Inc."

"Say, I wonder what ever became of Austin Quackenbush? Gosh, he left for the moon ten years ago in his new rocket ship. Midge Sutherland now manages his airport. Lunette Sheaffe and Eleanor Swanson used to be aerial acrobats there until Walter Dill became their pilot, then business fell."

"What's this stone say? Why look—Paul Leger. He edited that thrilling weekly, 'The Tantalizer.' Marion Smith and Helen Waitkevitch have worked for him for years. And remember Al Wise's and Ed Wronski's soap factory?"

"Yeah, it was a great business until Dick Towle filled their order of 20,000 'Sudzy-wudzy' wrappers and took over the place. Soon after Nancy Reynolds replaced Marion Tichyno as 'America's Sudzy-wudzy girl'."

"You know, Phil Streechon certainly made the grade. He owns that big ball club, the 'Tinkerville Termites.' John Lippolis and Nelson Urquhart are associated with the club, too. They sell pop

"George Strunz was buried here, too. He went to Tech to become an engineer. He finally became one on the 6:10 Limited out of Norfolk. Gee, he was a good engineer. Too bad he didn't see that cow. Maybe he was watching those three dairy maids Marie Ceglarski, Marianna Pascucci, and Antoinette Sheptycki milking their cows."

"Remember the Walpole Library where we gathered all the information for English? I wonder if Bob Neault and Ruth Maker are still sitting in the last row looking at the picture books? Joan Proctor used to be the librarian there, you know."

"O boy, here's a nifty. It says Barbara Gould. Gee, she certainly did well running that day nursery. She had a very capable staff, too, with Helen Bennett, Anne Caponi, and Vera Ciallella as nurses. Perhaps that's why Kenneth Smith enrolled there as one of the cute kiddies. He nearly fooled them too, until his voice changed. Just around the corner, Edna Dill lived in her huge apartment. She gave a big party a while ago. I was surprised to see the countesses Helen Florest and Ninette Petroni there. It seemed funny too; why, suddenly, Barbara Mills, Louise Maini, and Evelyn Modig flocked into the kitchen to learn how to cook spaghetti. After, I found that Arthur Hanson, the nationally known chef was there. And then there was the famous radio trio, Rita Counter, Beatrice DeSena, and Anne Turco. They broke all records in their performances a short time ago, so now they've stopped making records. That fortune teller, Rose LaCivita was certainly good. She predicted that Althea Jonah and Arlene Lanphear would someday work for a millionaire, and she was right. They work at Woolworths. I saw that great artist Robert Magnuson for a short time. While he was there, he painted Patricia Haggerty and Doris Keyes. Gee, did they look funny with paint all over them! Afterwards we went out to a restaurant; and whom should we see but Angelina Marinilli and Marguerite McDonough as waitresses, and Mildred Boyden as the hostess."

"Say, look! way over here in the corner on this old stone! It says Steele Lightbody. He died years ago. Dave Glazebrook and he had a controlling interest in the 'Crummy Crunchets,' Cereal Manufacturers. I remember they got Helen Murray and Lois Campbell, those international champions, to endorse their product. After Steele died, Charlotte Merrill teamed up with Joyce MacDonald and Helen Petrovick and bought over the corporation. They made 'Crummy Crunchets' America's number one breakfast food."

"Well, I have just time enough to run home to listen to the 'Singing Sensation.' That's Richard Kramer, you know. After that comes the 'Advice to the Lovelorn' program with Theresa Presentato and Betty Ryan; I never miss that. Well, I'll drop in again sometime soon, and we can continue our little discussion."

"All right, Admiral, I'll be expecting you, one way or another, Goodbye."

Class Will

We, the class of 1942, being in our right mind and senses do humbly and with great ritual graciously palm off on you, the fortunate or unfortunate, as the case may be, underdogs of '43, '44, and '45, our most noteable and unwanted possessions with irksome regret that we have no more to offer.

Victor Garneau leaves his abilty to talk to David Smith.

Kenneth Boulter leaves his authoritative appearance and jesting to Jack Ricker.

Marjorie Wight leaves her enthusiasm for sailboats and Dartmouth to Gwen Groote.

Gloria Nelson leaves her wide blue eyes, her pug nose, and her blonde hair to Dot McKee.

Paul Leger leaves his quiet efficiency and thoughtfulness to Karl Dorwachter.

Theresa Presentato leaves her popularity with the Aggie students to Helen Waltonen.

Bill Bazilchuck leaves his conceit to Robert Tschirch.

Jeanne McGlone leaves her sweetness to Jane Burns.

Bob Jewell leaves his good-all-aroundness to Alan Shaw.

Alma Guttormsen leaves her torch singing to Mary Becker.

Russell "Puffer" Lindequist leaves his marvelous achievement of smoking four packs of cigarettes in an hour to Dane Nichols.

Edith Campagna and Beatrice DeSena leave their dual personalities to Evelyn Johnson and Connie McNally.

Gerald Betro leaves his fine appearance to George Sullivan.

Rita Counter leaves her share of loving to Romeo and Juliet and people like that.

Dave Regan leaves all golf points under par to Red Muldoon.

Doris Keyes leaves her come-hither-look to Janet Field.

Joyce MacDonald leaves her sweet personality to Nancy Davenport.

Lyle Allen leaves his sister's car in the garage for a while.

You-know-who leaves his watchamacallit to hey-ninny-ninny with a hot-cha-cha.

Ninnette Petroni and Jim Regan leave their athletic ability to Connie Pratt and Armando Betro.

Lois Campbell leaves her address book of soldiers to anyone intersted.

Paul Procaccini leaves his charm and grace with the ladies to "Tede" Boragine.

Louise Anderson and Helen Florest leave their bicycles to Muriel Boulter and Barbara Duquette.

Arthur Hanson leaves his appetite to Jesse Meyer.

Angelina Marinilli leaves her self-confidence and poise to Connie Ciccolini.

Richard and Robert Johnson leave their blood-is-thicker-than-water attitude to any other twin brothers in Walpole High School.

Nan Ryan leaves her love 'em and leave 'em personality to her sister Jean.

Tom Jackson leaves his A's to the class of 1943.

Sally Merrill and Charlie Robertson leave together.

Barbara Mills leaves her absolemscent giggle to Jayne Keegan.

Philip Streechon leaves his shyness to Karl Dorwachter.

Helen Murray leaves her ability to clap at the right time in the song "Deep in the Heart of Texas" to Alice Ellis.

Bob Magnuson leaves his art talent to LeRoy Spear.

Antoinette Sheptycki and Louise Maini leave their typing ability to Elinor Erker and Nilda Guisti.

"Ted" Nilson leaves his expeditiousness to Harris Fish.

Marie Ceglarski leaves her fantastic imagination to Helen Cummings.

George Strunz leaves his abilty to do those math problems that no one else would dare attempt to Charles Quimby.

Helen Bennett leaves her inch-deep dimples to her sister Muriel.

And, as usual, the Library leaves polish, cloth, and elbow grease to the inhabitants of Room 107.

This, being agreed upon by the members of the class of 1942, is the last will and testament of the forementioned. With hope that everyone is satisfied with what has been bequeathed to him, this is signed and sealed on this eighteenth day of June in the year nineteen hundred and forty-two, witnessed by: Superman and Hedy Lamar. (par Mildred Boyden).

For The Common Defense

Talks About

The 1941-42 season in sports for Walpole was a much better than average one. All teams came through in near championship style. Perhaps the football team was the greatest success. Walpole ruled every team we met by a decisive margin. Then came Stoughton! Our boys fought hard and built up a 13-0 lead. Then the luck started against us, and before they stopped, Stoughton had the game safely tucked away.

As usual we had a good field hockey team, although the record read won three, lost four, and tied two which was not quite up to the sensational records of previous years.

The same hard luck followed us in ice hockey where early in the season Walpole was easily the class of the league. Then in one crushing blow Songin and Magnuson, our chief offensive threats, were lost for the season. Even so Walpole gained a well-deserved third place in the Bay State League.

The basketbal team started slowly, but finished the season in a blaze of glory unequalled in many years at Walpole.

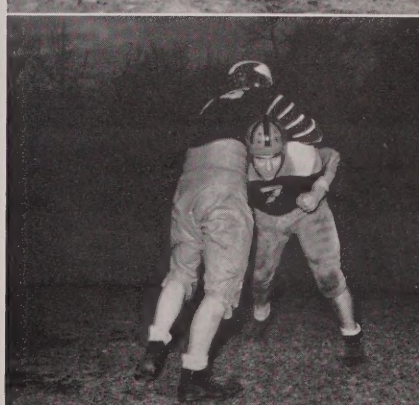
The curtailment of spring sports was threatened for a time because of lack of transportation. However, arrangements have been made with the help of Connolly's taxis, and all the teams are going ahead on schedule. The baseball team, beset by injuries, has at this point won two and lost three. From now on they should more than even the record.

The track team opened the season by tying powerful Dean, then easily defeating Framingham. They could only gain a poor second to Dedham in a triangular meet at Norwood.

The golf team, defending champions, have opened the season in fine style. They have a job before them in retaining their title.

Sports form an important part of every school year. This year it can be truthfully said we have been well-represented on every field. Let us hope the war does not force a curtailment of inter-scholastic competition. Our boys and girls deserve a chance to continue their fine records next year.



Athletic Council

The purpose of the Athletic Council is to award letters to the deserving candidates in the various sports and to solve any problems that may arise during the year. A letterman from each sport is chosen by the student council to represent that particular sport. Our faculty advisors are Mr. Goodrich and the other coaches. The Council is truly a living example of democracy in our school, for its members are chosen indirectly by the student body and are in close contact with the sports and the players. To be elected to the Council is indeed a great honor and all who are may be justly proud. The members this year were: Baseball, George Strunz; Football, James Regan; Golf, George Nilson; Hockey, Edward Songin; Field Hockey, Marion Tichyno; Boys' Tennis, Russell Lindiquist; Girls' Tennis, Lillian Heaver; Track, John Gray; and Kenneth Boulter, Senior Class President.

Football

The Walpole football team had one of the most successful seasons it has ever had.

The first game of the season was at the home field, when we met North Attleboro. We defeated them for the first time in several years by the score of 7 to 6.

The second game was played with the Orange and Black from Middleboro. After a close battle we came out on top with a score of 13 to 7.

Our first game away from home was with Canton. We returned with a 19 to 0 victory.

The Mansfield game was a run-away, the score being 66 to 6. Practically everybody on the team had a part in the scoring. The high scorers were "Butch" Songin, Ralph Bassey, and "Ted" Nilson.

The next game was with Needham. We played on a muddy field in the pour in rain and it was anybody's game. The final score was 0 to 0.

On Armistice Day we went to Wellesley for one of the best games of the season. With brilliant running and passing attacks by Ralph Bassey and "Butch" Songin we were the victors 19 to 0.

Then came our downfall. At the home field, we faced undefeated Stoughton, and were defeated 32 to 13.

Our Turkey Day battle with Franklin was a one-sided affair, the final score being 33 to 6 in our favor.

The score card shows that we finished the season with six wins, one tie, and one loss. This record has never been equaled before, but we hope that it will be surpassed in the years to come.

We have rightly earned the title, "The Greatest Team That Ever Represented Walpole High School."

Cheer Leaders

If you leave the baking powder out of a cake, it becomes flat. If you leave the cheering out of a football game, the same thing happens. Walpole's cheering section seemed especially enthusiastic this year. Things began with a bang when we had our first football rally, led by the football team, cheerleaders, and the band. Speeches were made in the glare of bonfires, and a parade through the center of town followed. It ended at the Blackburn Memorial where the students danced until curfew time for the football team.

In addition to our regular cheering section made up of Betty Barnes, Marion Tichyno, Marie Ceglarski, Marjorie Lyon, Harriet Kennison, Barbara Duquette, Judy Swift, and Love Godfrey, we had two boy cheerleaders Louis Verrochi, Joe Lorusso, and a mascot named "Nero".

Field Hockey

With the reinstatement of scholarly achievement on the Hill Top in September, came the wicked wielders of wooden whackers, our valiant field hockey squad.

Due to the excellence of the coaching done by Miss Wallace, Walpole's stick work was indeed a credit to our school, and many's the time only the sheerest of luck saved our opponents when Walpole's forward line charged down the field. The inspiring enthusiasm radiated by Captain Marion Tichyno permeated the entire squad creating unity and teamwork so essential to a successful season. Special mention, however, must be made of Ninnette Petroni who scored seven goals out of nine, and Kay Maguire whose stops at the cage brought much comment. The final tally three wins, four defeats; nine goals scored for Walpole, nine against.

The best of wishes to Miss Wallace and the squad of '42!

Basketball

The Walpole High School basketball team this year again suffered inevitable defeat, winning 4 and losing 10 games.

It was a scheduled season full of keen competition, and the boys showed the fine spirit of sportsmanship and ability as best they could.

It was due to the hard, brilliant playing, and outstanding ability shown by Tony Cerbo, George Sullivan, and Fred Arthur that the team enjoyed the little success it did.

The Stars and all the other players of this year will again return next season to attempt once more to prove their worth, and with the support of the student body, their future could look very bright.

Ice Hockey

Hockey is the sport of sports at Walpole High School. Always a respected team, Walpole had designs this year for the championship. We might well have brought the first place trophy with us had it not been for the sidelining early in the season of two of our star forwards, Ed "Butch" Songin and Bob Maguson.

With the two aforementioned stars in the lineup, Walpole decisively beat the team which eventually won the championship, Waltham, in the season's opener. Walpole tackled Natick High School without the services of its two key linesmen, Ed Songin and Bob Magnuson. In spite of the 4 to 2 shellacking there was one bright spot, the debut of "Peanut" Lennie Ceglarski who scored once and assisted on the second goal.

Waltham won 5 out of 7 contests and deserved to win the coveted trophy.

To Walpole, the grittiest team in the league, "Hats Off!!"

Track

The 1942 Track Team's chief problem in attempting to better the fine record of last season was replacing three stars—Chris Yates, "Red" Kennedy, and Bill Spillane. Although last year's team lost only one dual meet, it could only gain third place in the Bay State Meet which is the season's objective.

The boys who will strive to bring glory to the Blue and White are Ralph Bassey in the sprints and the broad jump; John Gray—100 and the 880; George Sullivan—shot-put and high jump; James Regan—shot-put; Fred Arthur—high and broad jumps; Bill Jurgelevich—200 and the 440; Richard Sullivan—mile; Dick Towle—880; Bob Swenson—440; Ned Leger—mile; Kenney King—440; Louis Verrochi—880; Charles Robertson—high jump. Fill-out the squad are Bob Fisher, Dick Colburn, Jack Coyne, Dick Jones, Bob Connolly, Tom Coughlin, Ed Hawkins, and Phil Pearson.

Boys' Tennis

With only three lettermen returning from last year, the season does not look too hopeful for our racketmen this year. Due to these trying times many problems have arisen which will hinder us greatly, but we are going to try and make this season as good as we possibly can. Mr. Murphy has taken over the position of coach, and has added a new opponent to our schedule: Wellesley.

Returning from last season are William Lee, Robert McIntosh, Russell Eppich, Russell Lindiquist, Richard Towle, John Ricker, and Albert Boragine. The positions which the boys will play are as yet undetermined. They have excellent spirit and with a little luck should finish the season very successfully.

Girls' Tennis

The girls' tennis team began this year with great expectations. Many of the old veterans returned, and the future looked promising. The games were scheduled, and the girls started with their practicing. Then came the disheartening news that the girls would not be able to execute their schedule because of lack of transportation facilities.

Despite the lack of transportation, the girls participated in many interclass games and thereby gained much valuable experience. Moreover, the underclassmen were schooled for their participation in the team next year by these games.

The next year's team we wish the best of luck.

Golf

Last year with one of the finest teams in years, we took the championship of the Norfolk League. However, we lost in the state championship when New Bedford defeated us by a wide margin at Ponkapoag.

Comprising the first two teams this year are four veterans: Will Bazilchuck, "Red" Muldoon, Ted Nilson, and Dave Regan. Johnny Howard and Tom Noonan fill out the rest of the team and we all feel sure they will help us a great deal. Since Mr. Searles left, Mr. Murphy has assumed the duties of golf coach.

This season in our first match against North Quincy we lost a tough battle. We then lost to Needham whom we had edged out last year for the championship. We imagine Needham was out for revenge. Nevertheless, we now have two victories and the team is determined to retain the cup for another year.

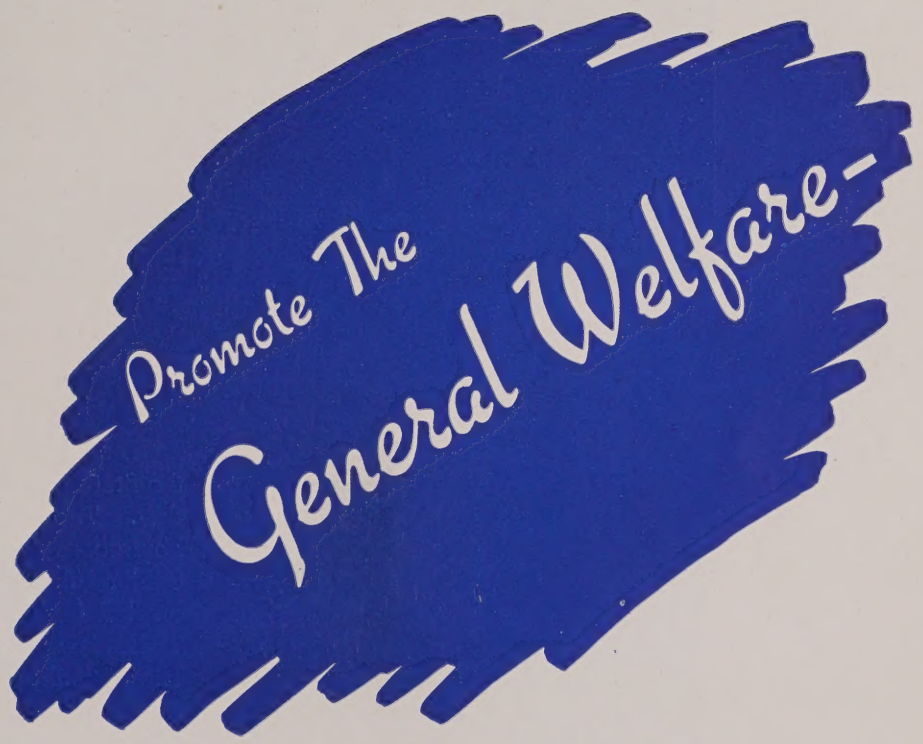
Baseball

The '42 team didn't have as much luck as was expected. During the practices, the team showed up very well with powerful hitting, and good pitching and fielding. When the team was put up against those of other schools, however, these factors couldn't be put together.

This year we had only one veteran returning, George Strunz, a senior, but there are several promising underclassmen. During frequent practices, the youngsters are readily being shaped under the able leadership of Coach Goodrich.

Walpole has dropped out of the league this year, in hopes of getting a few more out-of-the-league games. Due to the government curtailment of transportation service, at present it seems evident that we will not be able to play all the games that we would like to play.

S TISSUES



Promote The
General Welfare-

Student Council

The Student Council meets bi-monthly the first twenty minute period on Wednesday. The Council is composed of the homeroom presidents and the Junior and Senior class presidents. Officers are elected from this group.

Disagreements may arise in the school. Then it is the council's duty to act as arbitration board and to arrive at a conclusion favorable to all the factions involved. Also, the members offer plans and suggestions for the betterment of the school. Mr. Strout is present at the meetings to give guidance and offer suggestions and precedents to make difficult problems easier.

Each member is requested to report the proceedings of the meetings to his homeroom classmates in order to receive from them helpful ideas concerning most questions so that they may know just what their council is doing.

Honorary Society

The Honorary Society of Walpole High School was founded for the encouragement of all-around ability and character. No member is permitted to get a grade lower than 75% in any subject. Students must be active outside of school as well, either through sports, class offices, or school productions.

The Society of 1942 sponsored a Hallow'een dance, complete with a "Hall of Horrors." This was very successful, both socially and financially. Early this spring a "Donut-drive" was held which was more successful than any previous attempt.

The Society went on its annual trip to Boston on May 21. The members enjoyed an entertaining stage production and "Topped off" a fine day with a good meal. The Seniors of the Honorary Society wish the present and future members all manner of good luck and hope that they will carry on the traditions of the Society.

Hill Quill

The Hill Quill Staff has endeavored to make the school paper an interesting publication. We feel that the Hill Quill gives an opportunity for writing of short stories and poems which would not otherwise be written. Interest in writing stories seems to have lessened this year, therefore, we urge submission of more stories and articles.

The most popular feature of the Hill Quill is the personals section, although the literary section receives some attention. Moreover the editorials of the editors of the various sections are worthy of comment, and we heartily recommend them. There have been some candid camera "shots", which were very well received.

We hope next year's staff will receive full cooperation, and that they will gain as much from working on the staff as we feel we have.

Sportsmanship Brotherhood

The members of the Sportsmanship Brotherhood who are chosen yearly consist of those who have shown outstanding ability both in and out of school activities, and who are recognized as true sportsmen by their fine character and by their fair attitudes toward all circumstances.

This year the members enthusiastically set out to bring this organization up to the same standard as the other clubs. Miss Jones and Mr. Davidson were asked to sponsor the club, and they gladly consented. At our first meeting, officers of the club were elected, and several ideas for making money were suggested and discussed, but no action was taken upon them. The club met again in May and new members were elected.

To the members next year, we wish all the success that is needed to place the Sportsmanship Brotherhood in the eyes of the school.

Band

The members of the Walpole High School Band enjoyed a successful season. Some new songs were learned and a surprise appearance was made at the Stoughton game to spur on our team. They also played at the Thanksgiving game aiding our team to beat our rivals.

Later they journeyed to the Boston Arena and showed that we not only had a good team but an excellent band. Early in the spring, they were called upon to play at the dedication of two traffic circles in East Walpole.

The playing of the band has received much favorable comment both from the students and from people outside the school who have heard them. They have also taken part in several parades where their martial music kept the spirits of the marchers high.

There are four Seniors in the band who will surely be missed next year.

They thank Mr. Kravitz for the excellent direction he has given them and the student body for their support.

Good luck to the band next year!

Dance Orchestra

This year the Jazz Orchestra began work immediately upon the opening of school. Mr. Kravitz again directed the orchestra; and before we knew it, they were playing "the sweetest music this side of heaven." Jack Ricker was elected leader of the band, and they acquired the name of "The Caveliers".

Dancing was held on Monday noons in the gymnasium for the senior, junior and sophomore classes, also a few after school dances were held. The orchestra topped off the season, as well as making a great name for themselves, by playing for a dance given by the seniors, which was a great success. The senior members of the orchestra, namely Chic Ellis and Dick Howland, wish the boys the best of luck next year.

Glee Club

This year the Walpole High School Glee Club presented successfully another of the noted Gilbert and Sullivan Operettas—"Pirates of Penzance."

Because of repair work in the auditorium, glee club rehearsals were not started until late in January; but in spite of this short time, the principals and chorus were able to learn their parts perfectly. It was the guiding hand and ever patient mind of Mr. Morse, the director, that led to a successful performance.

The cast consisted of:

Ruth ..... Love Godfrey
Frederic ..... Kenneth Smith
Mabel ..... Mary Becker
Kate ..... Doris Nilsen
Pirate King ..... Donald Simons
Edith ..... Jeanne McGlone
Isobell ..... Helen Saboitis
Samuel ..... Richard Kramer
Major-General ..... Paul Proccaccinni
Sergeant of Police ..... David Smith
Chorus of police, pirates and maidens

Orchestra

The Senior Orchestra consists of the usual string section, percussion, brass, and woodwind sections.

The string section includes seven violins, one cello, and a bass viol. The violinists are; Edward Hale, Lillian Haver, Arlene Lanphear, Wanda Sheptycki, Jenny Binkiewicz, Bernice Shaner, and Ilione Lewis. Connie Pratt plays the cello, and Richard Davis the bass.

The drummer is Harold Hayes, and Karl Dorrwachter plays the piano.

The woodwind section includes clarinets and a saxaphone. The clarinetists are Priscilla Young and Dante Massorati, and Charles Quimby plays the tenor saxaphone.

The bass section has two trumpeters, Charles Ellis and Dick Howland.

Under the able conducting of Adelbert Morse, the orchestra has proved quite successful in its performance.
